

PROCLAIMING JUSTICE TO THE NATIONS

LAURIE CARDOZA MOORE

FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT

As founder and president of Proclaiming Justice to The Nations, Laurie Cardoza Moore is a voice of conviction in a wilderness of moral uncertainty. She speaks the truth about Israel, Christianity, and America, and is a watchman on the wall, speaking out on falsehood and standing for truth from national media opportunities to her local schools in Williamson County, Tennessee.

Laurie cares deeply for children and fights to make sure our next generation of leaders are learning the truth about American history and Israel rather than the lies perpetrated by left-leaning liberal perspectives. When she was a homeschooling mother of five, she led the charge against falsehood about Israel, the United States, and America's Judeo-Christian history that she found in her children's schoolbooks in Williamson County. This led textbook giant Pearson Publishing to make changes to the way U.S. history was presented.

The Taking Back America's Children initiative is educating grassroots moms, dads, grandmas, grandpas, and patriots about how to engage their school systems for truth and how to rally like-minded citizens in their communities.

Her Focus On Israel TV series has been featured on the Daystar Television Network. PJTN programming, including a trio of Emmy-winning documentaries, has reached a potential audience of 2 billion over 20 TV affiliates and satellite broadcasters.

PROCLAIMING JUSTICE TO THE NATIONS

WHO IS PROCLAIMING JUSTICE TO THE NATIONS?

The core mandate of Proclaiming Justice to The Nations is to educate Christians on their biblical responsibility to support Israel and the Jewish people. Proclaiming Justice to The Nations accomplishes that goal through legislative and media engagement, equipping programs for grassroots patriots such as the Taking Back America's Children summits, advocacy, and Proclaiming Justice to The Nations programming shared on a global level to a potential audience of 2 billion.

As president, Laurie Cardoza Moore is the standard bearer for the Proclaiming Justice to The Nations' initiatives, battling for truth and fidelity to the biblical message about Israel and the Jewish people and rallying like-minded Christians to do the same, from calls to congressmen to school board meetings, social media, and whatever means is required to ensure the truth is being taught to the next generation of America's leaders.
